August 2026

To our valued customers,

We are pleased to present our Valentine's Day, Spring, Easter and Summer 2027 offerings.

Six months ago, as we introduced our latest catalog, the story was one of cautious optimism. Cocoa markets had finally begun to moderate after several years of unprecedented peaks, tariffs had largely dissipated, and we were able to lower prices on a meaningful portion of our chocolate portfolio. As anyone who follows commodity markets knows, however, they rarely move in a straight line.

While cocoa remains well below the record highs we experienced over the past several years, the market has firmed once again and today sits around $5,000 to $6,000 per metric ton—still roughly double the historical average. At the same time, inflation has shifted into other ingredient categories with meaningful increases this year in several raw material categories (cherries, almonds and pecans in particular), creating additional cost pressure across portions of our portfolio.

Strong supplier partnerships, disciplined procurement, operational efficiency and continuous improvement have allowed us to hold pricing steady across much of our portfolio despite ongoing cost pressures. Where inflation has simply become too significant to absorb, we've made selective adjustments to affected product categories while avoiding broad-based increases wherever possible.

We recognize that our customers face many of these same challenges in their own businesses, which is why our objective remains unchanged: to deliver the greatest possible value through high-quality products, and fantastic customer service that continues to set the industry standard.

On behalf of all our associates, thank you for your continued trust and partnership. We appreciate your business and look forward to making your days just a little bit sweeter in the months ahead!
